FH Salzburg

Salzburg University of Applied Science

The Salzburg University of Applied Sciences/ FH Salzburg with its 3400 well selected students is a centre of innovation and expertise in the knowledge domains of its degree programmes.

Since its foundation in 1995, it acts as a hub for the know-how transfer between research and the industry. Its degree programmes offer university level education tailored to the needs of current and future demands of the labour market combined with a sound theoretical underpinning. This is guaranteed by its qualified and highly committed staff from higher educational institutions as well as the industry.

We collaborate with partner institutions in Europe, the Americas, Asia and Australia in international projects as well as faculty and student exchange.

Academic Requirements

Language requirements

Students wishing to study at FH Salzburg must either have a very good command of English or German and have to provide certification or a letter of recommendation for having at least a B2 level in English and/or German in case it's not their mother tongue. A valid and internationally recognized English proficiency test such as TOEFL, IELTS or Cambridge at level B2 is recommended (B2 level in English equals a minimum of 87 points regarding TOEFL iBT and a result of at least 6.0. as to IELTS). In absence of a test, a letter of recommendation from an English instructor proving student's written and oral proficiency in English will be accepted

Language of Instruction 1: German

Language of Instruction 2: English

German Courses

German language courses are offered for free. Prior to the start of the courses, all non-German speaking incoming exchange students who want to attend a German language course will have to take part in a German placement test, which students are sent before the start of the semester. The test result will not affect their admission to FH Salzburg as an exchange student.
